

FIRST COURSE WRITTEN BY SOPHIA F. GOTTFRIED AND ESTHER DAVIDOWITZ

The Record

NORTH JERSEY'S TRUSTED SOURCE

CHOCOLATETEXT.COM

Spell it out with a chocolate keyboard

What's better than a sweet text message? An edible text made from chocolate, of course. Chocolate Text, a Fairfield-based company, spells out any custom message in 1-inch squares of Belgian chocolate. You can choose from more than 100 emojis, symbols, numbers and seasonally wrapped chocolates in your message. The chocolate keys are then packed up in a pretty gold box with a ribbon of your choice. If you need a little help designing your message, there are dozens of pre-made options, from holiday-themed boxes, get-well-soon and anniversary messages, prom and marriage proposals and even breakup boxes. Choose a box size (they range from 15 to 48 characters), type in your custom message online and Chocolate Text will ship it to your recipient. The company also makes the chocolate text boxes in bulk, for parties or weddings. $19.95 to $44.95, chocolatetext.com.